Descendants of Oberholz Switzerland

By Dennis L Oberholtzer, 2018

The Overholser Family Association began in 1906 as a family gathering in Terre Hill, in Lancaster County Pennsylvania. Within the first decade there were people from several distant states coming to the Reunion in hope of finding their root origins. It was not until the 1980's that we were able to connect our heritage across the Atlantic Ocean to Germany, and then to Switzerland. Our first published book, The Oberholtzer Book, written by Barbara B Ford, with an introduction by Will Overholtzer, tabulated the first five generations in America, with ties to the Oberholz Homestead in the Canton of Zürich. But the only true connection was through name association. We had no direct family line connecting the Protestant Family living across the valley with the earlier homestead in the village of Oberholz.

This has now been resolved! Over the past four decades, with the help of Rosy Oberholzer from the Inn at Oberholz, and especially John L Overholt of Virginia, along with many others, I have been able to confirm direct ties. The Swiss family line is shown here, and we have them connected to this same lineage. Barbara B Ford organized The Oberholtzer Book by using a two letter code for each immigrant, or earliest known member of a family line. The lines which can be directly connected to the European families are shown here with their corresponding code.

Julius Billeter did a study of family, parish, and population registers in the regions of Wald, Gossau, Ruti, Zürich, Richterswil, Hinwil, and Hombrectikon. These towns are listed with the people of whom we have knowledge of from these areas.

The European lines are now designated with Barbara Ford's coding system. The American Lines have separate codes for each family line, and if they connect to Europe, the code is hyphenated beside the European Line.

The coding system is like this: The two letter code corresponds with each individual family. OS is the code for the Oberholz family in Switzerland. Codes from America will be included in brackets [ ] after the OS number. The number after the letter code is the number of the child in the generational family. If there are more than 10 children, the numbers change to a small case letter. Each additional number in the code line represents an additional generation. A period comes after each five generations, with color differences for quick referencing.

Present coding system:

*OS11215.27921.1 [MC15] Esther Oberholtzer
m George Bachman*

d/o Jacob son of Marcus immigrant 1712

The present system in this document has several colors. This is not to differentiate the numbers of generations. Rather, the colors in this document represent the additions of outside information added to the text from other sources. It is decided for the present time to do this to enable researchers an easier way to separate sources. This can speed the process of correcting mistakes, or adding additional materials. In the future all lines will be the same color, but will change color every five generations for quicker cross-checking.

Sample of future coding system:

*OS11215.27921.1 [MC15] Esther Oberholtzer
m George Bachman*

d/o Jacob son of Marcus immigrant 1712

Esther Oberholtzer is the first daughter of Jacob and the granddaughter of immigrant Marcus from the European Line. So she has both a European number code, listed first, with a bracketed American code prior to her name. The American line only carries forward with the American code.

OBERHOLZ/AATHAL SWISS FAMILY LINE

- updated July 2018, 2020 by Dennis L Oberholtzer

The Alemanni Tribe was transplanted from Alsace to the Canton of Zürich in the 5th Century C.E.

The Oberholz family was transplanted to the area of Lake Constance first. Records there tell of their history and activities, and of their re-location to the area above the grove of trees in what is now the village of Oberholz.

The first known Alemanni family moved to and built a Hof (farm) on Oberholz Mountain in the 7th Century.

A Beautiful Beginning

by Nelson Lafon, Roanoke, VA (nelson.lafon@gmail.com)

On August 13, 2011, my wife, Emily Marston, and I visited the ancestral villages of Aatal and Oberholz near Wald in northeastern Switzerland. The generous advice provided by Dennis Oberholtzer, John Shinpaugh, and Jack Sholl of the Oberholzer Family Association made the visit more enjoyable and fruitful. On a Friday evening after a whirlwind walking tour of Zürich, we entered the world of the local Swiss and commuted eastward to the small working class village of Dürnten. We rented a room for the night from a nice family who pointed us to a local festival. It was one of those little gems that a tourist might miss: bratwursts, fried potatoes, and a Swiss-style country band playing just enough American cover songs for us to forget we weren't at our own town fair!

The next morning, we took a bus to Wald. Close to Wald, the winding road hugged a whitewater stream amid dense conifer forests before leveling out into a high valley surrounded by small mountains (for Switzerland) reminiscent of the Appalachians. Arriving at the bus station in downtown Wald, a picturesque but not overly-touristy little town, we struck out immediately to find the Wanderweg (footpath) north to Aatal where our protestant Oberholzer family would have lived prior to their emigration to Germany. Since the day was perfect for hiking - and since our main goal was to trek to Aatal and Oberholz on our way to a local peak - we didn't look too hard for churches or graveyards that our ancestors may have used. There was a prominent Protestant Church building there, which could have been where some of our Oberholzer family worshiped.

We walked upstream along a well-groomed trail for a couple of miles, weaving among ruins of old stone dams and spillways, to some large pasture lands surrounding the little settlement of Aatal (Figure 1). We encountered an interesting gentleman there who was quite familiar with the history of the area. We learned that the streams around Wald had powered mills and textile industries in the 1800s. In his view, the Protestants who moved to the valleys and towns were more educated and industrious than their agrarian, traditional Catholic cousins who stuck to their mountain villages and farms. He stressed to us just how clearly divided the Protestant and Catholic areas are to this day. As we stood outside of his house in Aatal, we were within one mile west of one of those dividing lines – the Canton boundary between Protestant Zürich and Catholic St. Gallen. Reversing the steps of my ancestors over three centuries ago, we climbed the sunny slopes and crossed the line.

Oberholz, perched on the western edge of Canton St. Gallen, overlooks Jona Valley – where Wald and Aatal are located – to the east and the Obersee (upper Lake Zürich) and the distant Alps to the south (Fig. 2-4). We strolled along the several streets that comprise Oberholz, trying to adequately take in the distant views while absorbing the close-knit village. Young men in shorts and sneakers were out tossing hay with pitch forks. As in other villages we'd visited and would visit later on our trip, residents took pride in tending to flower baskets beneath their windows. A typical-looking, though relatively new, house is the one owned by the Gottfried Oberholzer family (Fig 5). During a fortunate encounter with Gottfried's own granddaughter, tending flowers next door, we learned that we only missed the original 400-year-old house by a decade! It had to be torn down and replaced circa 2000. As we discussed our story getting there, it was clear that she has gotten used to her American cousins coming visiting!

Leaving Oberholz, we spent the rest of our day rambling along an idyllic ride of pastures and forests high above my ancestral haunts (Fig. 6-7). Days later, finding ourselves among the more spectacular Alps, we nonetheless looked back fondly on our first encounter with the authentic, Swiss countryside.

Combined Oberholz and Aathal Oberholzer Families

While the Oberholz family lived on the Oberholz mountain by the 8th century, they lived below the Geheyst (deep forest) at Wald.

The first known Oberholzers in the Forest of Oberholz Mountain:

Frundsberg Castle: 1259 Miles de Frundsberg From the Counts of Toggenburg

1276/77 Knight Wernher von Frundsberg assumed to come from Gebend

1280 Location known as Bi Frundsberg Fellow witnesses for Frundsberg were "Rudolf, Miles de Berge, Cuonradus de Mose, & Johannes de Dieneberch

"As early as 1300, the Hindergadem Hof was in existence, and in 1452 was still called Ussergadem (the building outside the hamlet)" [of Oberholz]. The Hindergage Hof bordered the hamlet of Oberholz and was later called Geheyst. Thus the hamlet of Oberholz was already established before 1300. And farming would have had to occur almost immediately in order for the Oberholzer Hof to annually exist. Thus clearing in the central part of the valley was already underway by the 13th century.

Oberholz Homestead: Formerly a Fiefdom of the Counts of Toggenburg, 1430 Witness Report stated the founders of the Oberholz farm migrated owners from the Counts of Toggenburg. This was witnessed from the elders of the mountain, as handed down from their parents.

1390 Mortgage Letter on Oberholzer Hof called for 600 kg or 8 Lbs annual interest in monetary funds to Arnold Wissling, Burger of Rapperswil. This reveals the homestead to have been quite large by this time.

By 1435, the books of the Parish of Wald contain four annual living homesteads above the forest line on the mountain. One of those annual homesteads was the Nydergeheyst [1350-1400], which was later called Ger:

Hans Huppi 1380 - 1410 As Captain, led a group from Wald to fight at Sempach War in 1386.

REF: Referendum of 1430

Wismann c1410 - 1430 and probable wife Adelheid Oberholzer

Ruedi and brother Clewi Oberholzer 1452 living with mother Adelheid in Ger, and they sold the farm to the hospital in Rapperswil for pasturing cattle.

The other three farms homesteaded after Oberholz before 1450 were the Vordergeheyst (below the forest), the Hindergeheyst (secluded forest), and the Nydergeheyst (enjoyable forest). The forests which were cleared in these area were large and included crop fields, meadows, pastures, and were surrounded by forests. By the mid 15th century these mountain edge farms were being sold to outsiders. "In the Late Middle Ages forest clearing was occurring on the gentle mountain slopes of Farnen. A document from 1452 calls it Varnern."

REF: Leben im Grenzbereich, Alois Stadler 2007, page 14-17

1436 The Last Count of Toggenburg, Frederick 7th, no longer had jurisdiction of the Oberholz Mountain lands. This led to the Old Zurich War between Zurich and the Counties of Uznach and Glarus.

The following estimates are by Dennis L Oberholtzer and colored brown:

OS Farmer Oberholzer est b 1390 - Der Hof Oberholz und Der Bauer Oberholzer in 1438.

The farm of Oberholz was documented March 5, 1438. (Kilger)

He was an adult when persecuted by Zürich officials in 1438, being a wealthy & successful farmer.

Fall 1438 Oberholz becomes part of Canton Uznach, breaking from Canton of Zürich

OS1 Uly Oberholzer est b 1418 - at Oberholz First recorded person with Oberholz surname in 1452.

Lived on the Oberholz Hof (farm), son of Farmer Oberholzer.

1452 Various Oberholzers were in Wald Church, some went to church in Canton Uznach

REF: Das Alte Oberholz und die Familie Oberholzer, 1999 Robert S Oberholtzer

OS11 Son of Uly Oberholzer est b 1448 - Likely to have been the eldest son of the family.

OS111 Elder and Mrs Oberholzer est b 1475 - Lived on der Hof Oberholz (Upper Farm House, Oberholz)

One of two brothers, this one is the eldest and remained Catholic, the younger became Protestant

The Family which remained at Oberholz

OS1111 Mr and Mrs Oberholzer Lived on der Hof Oberholz (Upper Farm House, Oberholz)

This son remained Catholic, possibly the eldest, and inherited the farm at Oberholz.

1523 Uznach remains firm in Catholicism

The 1611 Plague on Oberholz Mountain

The following is a list of deaths in Oberholz during the 1611 plague. There were about ten families in Oberholz at the time, and only three with a different surname: Furrer, Schmucki, and Huber. Hans Huber and son Jakob Huber worked as hands for Ackermann Oberholzer. These are still unconnected:

OS11111.12 Johann Anton Oberholzer Sr *c1587 Oberholtz - 4/30/1658 Goldingen called Hans m 7/2/1617 Eschenbach to Barbara Furerin *c1597 Freudwil - 2/2/1671 Oberholz
 During the marriage of Johann & Barbara, Pastor Adrian Braunschweiler from Eschenbach Parish was told that Johann's father was dying at his home in Oberholz. Although his wedding guests were holding the Pastor from leaving, he rode to Oberholz that same evening and comforted the terminally ill Hans Oberholz with communion. Hans managed to get out of bed at 2 AM for joy and put on his trousers to receive communion with dignity. He died shortly afterwards and was buried in Eschenbach the next day, at Johann's post-wedding ceremony.

Couple lived at Bochschaft, 7 km SE of Sinsheim, and 2 hours SW of Ebingen. A likely relative, Jacob (later wrongly called Christian) Oberholzer was with the congregation at Bochschaft in 1731. This is a different Jacob Oberholzer (likely JL) from the Martin & Jacob who were worshipping at the Immelhausen Hof in 1731.

Immigrants with 4 children from near Heidelberg, Germany on Sept 21, 1731, with parents Christian (not wrong name Andrew) & Elsbeth Martin to Brecknock Twp. Anna & Hans Heinrich lived for two years beside JL Jacob's land, before moving to the Conestoga Creek.

There appears to have been several Kilians who emigrated from 1730 - 1749 and these ought to be counted (tentatively) as Oberholtzers. A Kilian family settled in Eastern Lancaster/Montgomery Counties close to Oberholtzer who came at the same time. While this is the sentiments of Barbara Ford, the records from the Kraichgau reveal that Johannes retained the surname of Oberholzer, i.e. Kilian Casper Oberholzer. - Pg 204 # 5293

 Marcus and his family of 3 boys and 2 girls were with the first group of refugees from the Palatinate who were taken from Holland to London in early May, 1709, because of the "War of the Spanish Succession" (or in England called the "Queen Anne War") A census in London in 1709 provides ages. No record has been found of the date of their coming to America. But he was on the tax rolls in 1718.....He first settled in Philadelphia County (now Coventry Twp., Chester Co., PA) on 300 acres from fur trader Peter Bazaillon, who moved to Paxtang.

OS11215.27924. [MC4] Marcus Oberholtzer Jr c 1706 EUR - wp 2/25/1760 Chester County PA. He was single in 1737. Immigrated to PA with dad Marcus. Bought 103 acre farm in Coventry Twp adjacent to his father's property on the outskirts of Kenilworth, across the Skullkill River from Pottstown.

?m c1758 Elizabeth Staats (her 2nd m)

Marcus Jr's will written 1759: "I do bequeath unto my brother Samuel his three children." Explanation: The Oberholtzer Book, 1995 by Barbara Ford page 149 shows MT Mark overholt died in Tinicum in 1754. This takes him out of the legal documents, for he is already passed away. Next, MC5 Samuel died in 1757. His wife Elizabeth either dies next, or married Samuel's brother MC4 Marcus Jr. She dies within a year or two. Marcus had custody of Samuel's remaining three children, and bequeaths his estate to them in his will of 1759. He died in 1760. - DLO 2009

Only this person meets the following criteria to be HJ Hans Jacob Oberholzer who came to America 1730:
He is the proper age to have an eldest child in 1718. He was middle aged when he came to America in 1730.
He is designated as Swiss-German on the immigration lists. His wife Catharine is listed in America, and he is one of the few who have no wife in Wald. Hans Jacob was the only Oberholzer on the ship. - DLO

Unconnected Oberholzers from Wald ZH

The Oberholzers in Switzerland have multiplied since 1500 CE. They now have multiple family crests, which vary in location. From 1500 there is a crest from Goldingen, SG. From 1700 is a crest from Uznach, SG. There is a crest from Abbey, and an "original" crest from Wald, ZH. Eisseldeim also has a round crest. Johann Oberholzer from Oberholz mentions the oldest crest is the one from Goldingen, then the Wald crest, Uznach, and lastly Abbey. The Abbey was founded about 1200 CE. Nikolaus was not the first Oberholzer from the Abbey. Johanna knows of much older ones, but he was the first in the Zwinglian Church. And there is a crest from the Crusader era.
